At the close of the school year, near the end of production, it becomes pleasurable for the first time to pause and review the activities of our staff. As we progressed through the year, the staff realized just how much we owed to the personnel at the Community College printshop.

In recognition of invaluable services given freely and, we mention, above and beyond their official responsibility, we wish to express our gratitude by dedicating the fruits of our labor, the Tamarack '65, to the men at the printshop who were so helpful. To Carl Bridge, advertising section. Fred Hoefler, type setting. Tom Keel, makeup. Bob English, offset, and the printshop head, Maynard Rikerd, letterpress, we extend our thanks for their services.

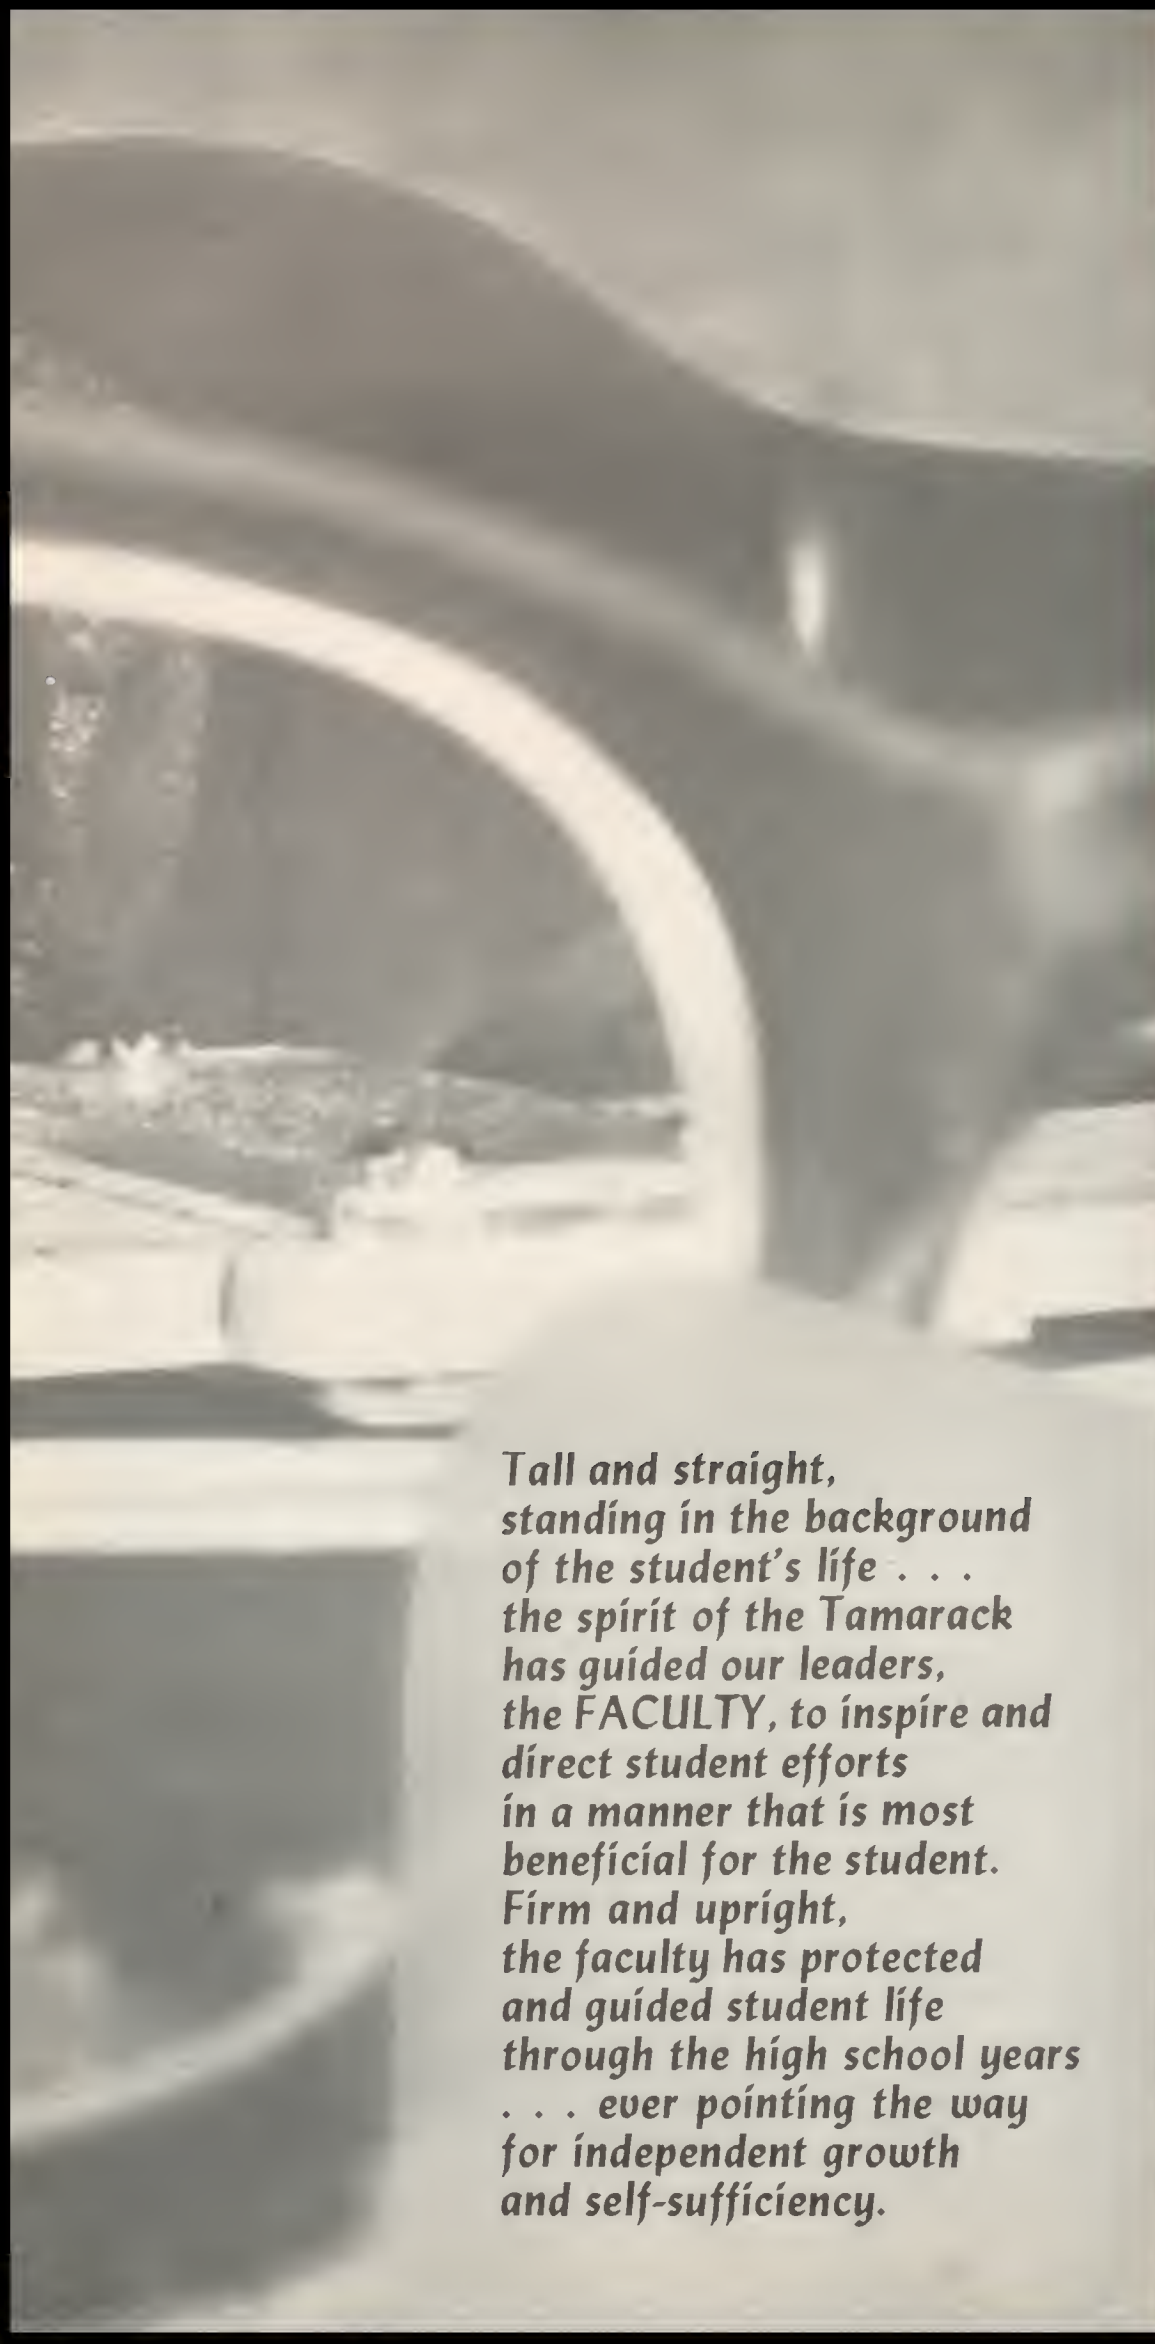

Through the year, as trips to and from the printshop accumulated, staff members worked closely with one man in particular, Tom Keel. For all the extra effort he has expended in the interest of not only our book, but many preceding books, we wish to express our special thanks and real appreciation to "the guy" to whom we owe this whole year's product.

School Board Establishes Policies

Members Direct Activities of Schools

President of the District 81 School Board for 1964-65 is Osear C. Santschi.

Spokane's District 81 School Board continued to be the policy-making force throughout the school year. They held meetings regularly with principals and administrators and were responsible for the efficient operation of Spokane's educational system.

The board members served through the year without any reward other than the satisfaction they received from knowing how they aided the learning processes of Spokane's youngsters and helped their prospects for better, more fulfilling lives.

Through the realization that education is the key to success in our competitive society, the board has striven to maintain fine schools in which students have opportunities in proportion to their individual desires to achieve.

Legislation for the school's benefit was put into effect with the hope that our entire system could give a higher degree of education at all levels.

Meeting in regular session are District 81 Board of Directors: George R. Nethercutt, Mrs. Thomas C. Wurth, Oscar C. Santschi, president; William Gordon Luscher, H. Avery Peyton, and Dr. William C. Sorenson, superintendent.

PTA and School Work Together

Efforts Made to Interest Parents in School Affairs.

North Central's Parent-Teacher Association worked closely with the school's administration through the school year. Their purpose was to bring the home and school closer, so students could receive the benefits of increased understanding between the two factions, and therefore gain more from their education.

Officers were elected and held their positions through the entire year. They supervised the two meetings held each month, programmed speakers and planned extracurricular activities.

Statistics have shown that close parent-school administration ties have produced a better quality, more interested student that is truly concerned with the affairs of his community.

These community-minded individuals are the initiating force of democratic processes; these processes are responsible for the maintenance of America's high standards of education and government that make us a truly superior people and give us the full benefits of our society.

Mrs. Noreen Barr reviews material pertaining to her duties as president of the PTA for 1964-65.

Parents at the PTA open house join in an audience response to the program.

School Administrators

Walter Anker, New Vice-Principal

The administration at North Central, the principal, vice-principal, and the girls' and boys' deans are directly responsible for the efficient management of all school affairs. Most policy interpretation is handled by the principal, John P. Rodkey. Our vice-principal, Walter Anker, was new to N.C. this year, but he soon became a familiar figure about the school as he handled the problems concerning student management and control.

The girls' and boys' deans, Patricia Butterfield and Kenneth Mhyre, were active and appreciated in their capacities as student counselors. Many students are familiar with the concern and sympathy these teachers extend in the course of duty.

North Central has a dedicated administrative staff, which devoted many hours to the betterment and understanding of its students. They know that students work much better in an atmosphere of general good feeling than under the burden of unsolved personal problems.

Their aim is to be of service to both students and parents in solving scholastic and social problems.

Walter Anker, Vice-Principal

Patricia Butterfield, Dean of Girls, and Kenneth Mhyre, Dean of Boys, work on student affairs.

Service Staffs

The office, cafeteria and custodial staffs were responsible for many details in the smooth functioning of the school.

The office staff handled all absentee, dismissal and bookkeeping details in the school. Our secretaries were responsible for the compilation of permanent records for all students of N C.

North Central's clean halls bear silent testimony to the efficiency of the custodial staff. The custodians maintain the grounds and keep the electric and heating systems in proper working order.

Attractive meals and snack items were served daily in our cafeteria in the three lunches. North Central's cafeteria is a busy spot almost any time of day because the cooks are planning and preparing food on a continual basis.

Business Education

Business courses and vocational education are an important part of many students' educations, particularly those who plan on entering the business world immediately after graduation. They are the most immediately useful of school subjects, because they are helpful in laying foundations for business careers and they provide useful skills for college education.

Many careers become the goals of business education students. Some require further training, but many do not. Business training not offered at North Central is available at most of the professional business training schools in the Spokane area.

North Central strives to maintain high standards in its business education fields. Classes offered are: Two-year courses each in typing, shorthand and bookkeeping. Office practice and distributive education are one-year classes, whose enrollment is usually restricted to seniors.

Teacher Mary York instructs senior Mary Lotze in a commercial course.

Taking a timed write in a typing class are Ella Ostrum and Dan Hirst.

Foreign Languages

The most basic need for good personal relations is the ability to communicate effectively. Language courses offer instruction in this ability in a variety of languages. With the technical advances in world communications, it becomes most obvious that an understanding of languages other than English is highly desirable.

At North Central, French, Latin, Spanish and German are offered up to the third year. Only Latin and German have fourth-year classes, however.

With the advance of audio-lingual methods, tape recordings, records and films have become key tools in the study of foreign languages.

Advanced levels endeavor to understand more than language mechanics and study culture and customs of the various lands.

Orosia McHugo looks on as three of her Spanish II students, Bruce Wald, Steve Saruwatari and Nance Marlene make use of audio aids.

Donna Standaart learns to speak German fluently through using German puppets. Frank Windishar, instructor, supervises.

Art, Music, PE

One of the most basic desires of man is to express himself. The basic training the student gains in high school in the subjects of art and music are the key to his artistic expression.

North Central offers courses in basic art, lettering, drawing, architecture, painting and senior studio. All these subjects are directed at the development of artistic ability.

The Art Department directed all publicity of the school's activities and arranged special decorations for seasonal events. All props for stage productions were created in the art labs, as were all materials for pep cons.

The Physical Education Department bases its curriculum on the idea that a healthy mind functions best in a healthy body. Under the influence of the late President's physical fitness program, the curriculum was expanded and diversified. Most freshmen are enrolled in daily PE and many specialized activities are scheduled outside the school, also.

Our choral and band groups have consistently won top ratings in competition. The choir, glee clubs, ensembles and the marching, dance, stage and pep bands contribute much to the creative side of North Central.

Homemaking, Industrial Arts

Culinary and sewing arts are the basic subjects taught in homemaking, while the metal, wood, electronics and auto shops teach manual skills.

All girls are required to take two credits in some homemaking courses. In addition to sewing and cooking, child development and social relations classes are held. Up to two years in any one subject are available.

Most boys are active in shop work. Wood, metal, auto and electronics shops, vocational metal and mechanical drawing are offered to all male students above the ninth grade.

The fundamentals of homemaking are essential to every girl who plans to have a home. Boys who are interested in any of the trades find industrial arts courses very valuable.

Mathematics, Science

Developing logical patterns of thought through training in mathematics and scientific principles was the basic object of mathematics and science instruction.

The mathematical principles that were given to students helped to prepare them for practical occupations in many fields other than math and science teaching.

Courses in both mathematics and science are offered on a four-year basis to all students. Freshman algebra, geometry, intermediate mathematics and advanced math are the basic courses, and are supplemented by the SMSG geometry and senior math, which is given to those seniors who desire instruction in more elementary procedures.

In the Science Department, care is given to see that each student has at least one year of a laboratory science. Physical science, biology (both BSCS and traditional), chemistry and physics are offered to students.

It is hoped that the knowledge they gain through these studies will help them to ask and answer the questions that are instrumental in the advance of our society.

The marvels of the sciences and their fundamentals fascinate students of chemistry. Here Bev Saruwatari and George Cannata work with balance scales in chemistry class.

Social Studies

"He who knows the past understands the present; he who has an understanding of the present has the key to the future." It could be said that this is the keynote of all history study. The element of history in our country's culture cannot be overlooked, nor can its importance be understated.

In grade school, the study of history is taken as a matter of course. In high school, however, its importance becomes more readily seen.

The history of our state, Washington, is a required course of study for all freshmen. In addition, they take a semester course in world geography. The only required course in history above the ninth grade is United States history, generally taken in the junior year. In addition, two more credits in either world history or current world problems are required. Seniors have a new system available to them on a nine-week basis. New to North Central is a course in contemporary problems, economics and government.

All courses of study are designed to make the student more aware of the daily events, their causes and effects; in general, to create a more aware citizen.

Drama, English,

The secret of man's success or failure lies in his ability to communicate and express himself so that he can be understood by those about him. Our most common and frequent means of communication are speaking and writing. In the English classes that all students attended through their high school years the emphasis was on these two areas.

In the course of study, students were given material in grammar, construction, literature (both American and classical), vocabulary, vocational instruction, and all forms of material relating to man's progress in his ability to express himself.

Freshman English courses concentrated on the fundamentals of real literature when they read Julius Caesar, Tale of Two Cities and Silas Marner. They also studied more of the fundamentals of construction and usage. Juniors in both traditional and the new team-teaching programs spent an entire year on American literature and America's cultural history. The team-teaching program continued its varied approaches to the subject and expanded their vocational and governmental studies.

Seniors who elected to continue their study of the language in preparation for college studies concentrated on classical literature and composition. In addition to regular courses, vocabulary was offered to seniors in the hope that the knowledge of Latin and Greek roots would help them on their college-entrance tests. The preparation of term papers and detailed reports were also an important part of the senior curriculum in English.

Much care and thought were given to the planning of the study of our language. It is hoped that the students will use their abilities to the fullest extent and take full advantage of the opportunities they will see opening before them.

Senior Homeroom Teachers Advise Graduates

Mr. Orval Theisen

Leading the graduating class of 1965 through a year of memorable events was Mr. Orval Theisen, class adviser. Senior homeroom teachers aided Mr. Theisen by assuming the responsibility for various senior functions.

Homeroom teachers assist students during the four years at North Central in giving words of advice and encouragement. Keeping a record of each student's progress, achievements and activities is just a part of the homeroom teacher's duty. He also helps the student plan his four-year schedule and advises him on college or job preparatory courses. This record that is kept by the homeroom teacher is frequently used for future references by potential employers and colleges. Therefore the homeroom teacher has grave responsibility, for it is up to him to encourage students under his direction to participate in school activities and scholastic schedule in order to make the student a well-rounded, well-prepared graduate.

Of the many students that leave North Central and return in later years, it is their first concern to see their teachers of the past years who helped them through high school.

Officers and

The last pep con of the year for seniors to show their loyalty to North Central . . . Big Red booms out with spirit that is typical of the class of '65.

The auditorium; quiet now until the first football con next fall.

Planning sessions in the cafeteria were common. Shown in session are Pam Checki, Jan Stradley, Bill McKanna, Billie Wood and Roy Laitinen.

Doing a little clowning around in preparation for the issue of caps and gowns are Karen Beck, Mike Proteau and Joyce Maloy.

Representatives Elected

Senior Week Busy

Seniors are kept busy during the last week of school with various activities. Books are turned in, fees returned, grades received and the last-minute plans for the week's functions are completed. Many students gather together to make plans for the last week and maybe just to reminisce about their four years at North Central. The last week is a busy one with two main activities held by the graduating class.

June 3 was the day of the annual Senior Dress-Up, an event held by each graduating class. Seniors, dressed in their best, attended classes for the last time on this day. On the following Friday, June 4, the class held their Senior Breakfast at the Eagles' Lodge. At this last and memorable activity, which they attended as the Class of '65, the seniors enjoyed a delightful meal and a special program while visiting among themselves. After the breakfast, the seniors then went to the Coliseum to practice for Commencement exercises which were the following Sunday, June 6.

Prom Highlights Year's Events

The arrow marks the spot and Megan is seated under it.

Associated Student Body President Darrell Mead crowns Princess Megan as she waits demurely.

School board member, H. Avery Peyton, congratulates Ben Goins during graduation ceremonies as Diane Scott leaves the stage.

Senior Class officers led the graduating class of 1965 through an exciting year filled with various activities.

Early in November the class officers were elected. They met regularly with the class adviser, Mr. Theisen, and senior homeroom representatives to plan the year's schedule. Committees were chosen, cards and announcements were selected and ordered, and plans were being made for the other events to come.

The first big event was the Senior Con on March 25. The production was based on a television theme and featured a variety of talent. On the night of March 26 the production was presented for all senior parents and was followed by a reception.

The Senior Prom, held at the Holy Names Commons on May 29, was the highlight of the year.

Senior Dress-Up Day, an annual event, was June 3, preceded by a breakfast at the Eagles Lodge. Climaxing the year's events, commencement exercises took place at the Coliseum Sunday afternoon, June 6.

And so . . .

The Class of '65 bids farewell.

Junior Prom time is time for decorating the Blue Room, and these juniors are beginning the project. Fixing the hoop for the lowered ceiling are Don Smith, Gayle Jasberg, Bev Saruwartari, Vicki Cobb and Barry Lawson, as Hank Green longingly looks at the floor before ascending to the top with the glass ball.

Becoming part of the upper half of the student body entailed current responsibilities for the Junior Class. Each home-room elected a representative who met in the Junior Council with Edward Luders, faculty adviser for the class. There, nominations were taken for officers and the class elected Dave Neff, president; Gail Coyte, vice-president; Bev Saruwatari, secretary; Gayle Jasberg, treasurer, and Jack Ashlock, fifth executive. These officers led them in staging the Junior Prom and appointed committees toward this end. The class banded together for car washes and other fund-raising activities to finance their prom, "Ebb Tide."

U.S. history is a requirement in the curriculum of all junior student. Many juniors enroll in chemistry, and there is often a strange odor on the fourth floor, compliments of experiments performed in this class. One of the projects of junior English classes is to prepare a vocational notebook, giving the student a preview of a possible future occupation.

Goals Under Construction

The Sophomore Class is just beginning to come into its own as a constructive unit of North Central's student body. This was the first year that these students were eligible for most clubs, committees and organizations, with the exception of Color Girls. Also, the sophomore year formulated study habits and scholastic patterns.

It is generally believed that the sophomore year is the most rigorous, but sophomores were also among the most active of the classes. Cumulative grade points were forming in anticipation of the higher requirements for activities in the junior class. Next year the sophomores, then juniors, are to meet additional requirements for graduation, including five-day physical education and four years of history. These requirements, calling for 28 credits above the freshman year instead of 25, are applicable to all classes after 1965.

Though they bore the nickname "wise fools," the class in general proved to be more wise than foolish in its choice of goals and objectives. Their horizons are gradually widening as they advance one step closer to graduation and independence.

Frosh Plan Courses

Beginning the academic year in their typical fashion, the freshmen were bewildered and lost and could be seen in the middle of most hall congestions. The size of North Central and the number of students seemed so ominous that no amount of time would be sufficient to orient them.

These problems were overcome in a short time as the classrooms became more familiar and friendships were formed.

After some of the excitement wore off, the youngest class settled down to their studies. The teachers treated them as young adults and helped, to a great extent, to teach them to accept responsibilities.

Freshman Year Begins

For their first year of high school the freshmen were allowed only one elective course from the foreign language, business education, music or art fields. This was their first chance to choose a course which would help them plan their futures. It was also an opportunity for them to assert a small amount of independence.

Anticipating the fun to be had and the friends to be made in their next three years at North Central, the freshman class completed the year knowing that no other year would be quite the same. They have been prepared for the wide range of opportunities and challenges that North Central will present to them.

Fall Semester ASB

Increased student participation and the raising of funds to purchase new stage curtains were the main goals of the Associated Student Body.

September 11 the Get-Acquainted Mixer was held, while the following week of September 14-18 was Hello Week. The carnival was held October 9 and booths and concessions were operated by the school clubs.

Sandy Nelson was crowned queen of the Football Festival Mixer which was held October 30. Vicky Murry and Megan Magner were princesses.

The sum of $61.80 was raised at an after-school mixer held on November 13 as a donation for the Circle Bar-J Ranch which burned down.

Co-recreation nights attracted many students. These were held November 16 and 17 and January 11 and 12.

"So Still the Night" was the theme of the Christmas date dance held December 18.

The winners of ASB offices for the spring semester were announced at the January 29 Elections Mixer.

Shown are members of the Student Council at an early-morning session.

At the beginning of a new semester several Associated Student Body standing committees were appointed which enabled many more students to participate in activities.

"Emerald Isle" was the name given to the ASB date dance held March 20 in the Old Gym, alias the "Clover Field." Music was provided by the Ceptors.

Money-raising projects were held at times during the year. One of these was selling stationery. Plans were being made for a street sign to be erected outside the school. Coming events at the school would be posted on it.

Additional school mixers brought the semester's and year's activities to an end.

Senators

One girl and one boy from each class level make up the Senate. Each semester new representatives are chosen and sworn in at the ASB installation convocations.

All issues pertaining to student body affairs must be approved by the Senate before they are presented to the House. The Senate conducts meetings with the ASB officers every other Tuesday of the month.

Twinlow

One of the greatest honors bestowed on a student is being chosen to represent his school. Representatives to Twinlow spent a fun-filled week swimming, dancing and just having a ball on lower Twin Lake in Idaho. Students from all over the state met to discuss and learn about leadership and organization.

Twinlow representatives Larry Goffinet, Tanya Charlton and Mike DeLong take time out from their busy schedules to have their picture taken.

Boys' State Representatives Jerry Miller and Norm Northrup are seen walking in the halls of North Central.

Boys' State

Representatives to the leadership camp are chosen from the Junior Class by a faculty committee. This year Jerry Miller and Norm Northrup were chosen.

Citizens of Boys' State learn many valuable things about government operation. Responsibilities and privileges of an American citizen, advantages and disadvantages of a two-party system and the actual working of the government are demonstrated to school leaders.

Girls' State

Teaching high school leaders the meaning and use of democratic forms of American government is the purpose of Girls' State leadership camp.

Cities are organized by the representatives and a State Legislature is chosen. Officers for the city government and state legislature are chosen. All types and levels of leadership are studied at the week's session.

Linda Beckman, Girls' State representative, is seen preparing her speech on her experiences at Girls' State for a League con.

Girls' League Fall Semester

Acquainting "little sisters" with their new school at the Big and Little Sister party launched the fall semester of Girls' League activities. Big Sisters took their proteges through the halls and explained schedules and the various activities open to students of North Central.

Next on the busy agenda planned by the League officers came the annual Dad-Daughter Dessert. The theme "My Heart Belongs to Daddy" was carried through the dessert by the programs, entertainment and decorations.

November 13 was the date picked for the "Bewitched Apparitions," which was a girl-ask-boy affair. At Christmas time Santa Claus pictures were taken to raise money for the League.

Spring Semester Girls' League

Starting out the spring semester was a get-acquainted party given by the officers for the Central Council representatives.

"Streets of Killarney," the Spring Style Show was the first major event undertaken by the new officers and their committees. The new fashions, sewed and modeled by students themselves, were presented.

Next on the agenda was the Cotton Day Dance, "Sidewalk Surfin'," which was held April 6 in the Old Gym.

Girls honored their mothers at the Mother-Daughter Tea, "My Fair Lady," held May 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the Old Gym. There the girls and their mothers were entertained by League talent, and refreshments were served. This concluded the year's activities for the spring-semester officers and their advisers, Mrs. Sharon Nustad and Mrs. Cleo Clizer.

Cathy Dunn and Gay Elbrecht confer with homemaker teacher Mrs. Cleo Clizer concerning the spring style show.

Officers and representatives met and broke the ice with an informal gab session . . . the get-acquainted party.

Work on Book Begins Early

Preparation for the Tamarack began with the opening of school. Staff members were given notebooks to study and then section assignments were made.

Art editors, Nancy Vinge and Bill Cady, completed the cover design and art work for the yearbook early in the year with the help of Art Department head, Barbara Eddy.

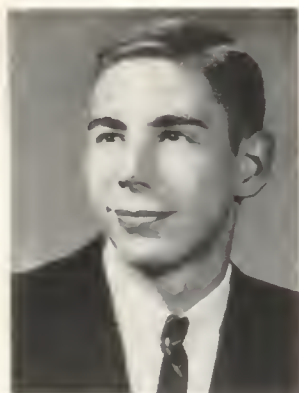

Staff members solicited for advertising on week-ends and after school. Support from the Spokane businessmen is an important aspect of the financing of the Tamarack. In November, with the aid of the News staff, Tamarack sales began in the homerooms. A convocation was presented by the Tamarack staff to advertise the sale of the book.

Each section editor was required to lay out the section, write copy, and schedule the necessary pictures. Several of the staff members attended the Publications Conference held at the University of Washington on Oct. 31.

Mrs. Carol Newett, faculty representative and adviser, spent many hours helping in the production of the Tamarack. The staff was greatly aided by her help and encouragement.

Sections Finally Completed

Senior section was under the supervision of Tami Hubbard. She worked many long hours pasting glossies and recording each senior's activities.

Tamarack business manager, Karen Baker, has served the staff for two years; she assumed the duties of her position second semester of her junior year.

The staff worked now only on their respective sections, but as deadlines neared, on any section that needed a helping hand. Typewriters averaged 20,000 miles to a ribbon as copy was drafted, retyped, edited and typed again. Vocal cords were exercised over and over with the words "where is that photographer?" Photography coordinator Pam Checki became a jack of all trades after her own work was done, as she ran errands, typed copy and made all arrangements with the professional photographers.

Judi Jackson, classes editor, was the first to nearly complete her section, and most of second semester she worked on her action shots and helped others. The quiet drama of untangling 30 unnamed head shots that were dropped on the floor, and arranging them in alphabetical order became a standing joke for the staff.

News Staff Fall Semester

Members of The News staff have an enormous responsibility in getting the paper to press each week. Amid the clicking of typewriters and the droning of voices, the staff editors busily plan page makeup, check cuts, and proofread copy. All news stories must be written and handed in by Thursday, a week before the publication is due to come out. Feature stories are due on Wednesday of the week before the paper is issued.

For the past 30 years The News has been awarded highest honors by both the Columbia Press Association and the National Scholastic Press Association. Plaques and certificates won by the The News line the walls of the newsroom.

Seen working on a news beat are Karin Compton, Lori Gausman and Robin Brockway, juniors on the News staff.

News Staff Spring Semester

Outstanding writers on The News staff are selected for membership in Quill and Scroll, which is an international honorary society for high school journalists.

Members of The News staff are chosen from the beginning journalism class by Mrs. Marilyn Klawunder. In the journalism class, the students learn the fundamentals of writing and proofreading copy.

The mailing and circulation staffs are an important part of any school paper as are the advertising solicitors.

Mrs. Marilyn Klawunder is the adviser for The News staff. Fall and spring editors, respectively, were Sue Reida and Bonnie Pasiecznyk.

Key Club

Key Club, the boys' service club at NC, is affiliated with Kiwanis and its purpose is to give service to the school as Kiwanis gives to the community.

Membership in the Key Club requires a good scholastic standing, good character, leadership ability, interest in service, good citizenship and approval by the principal. Proposed members are then voted on by the members of the club.

During the past years the service club has helped develop initiative and citizenship in the leaders of tomorrow.

This year the club was under the supervision of Richard Pelkie, the faculty adviser.

Getting last-minute instructions from adviser Mr. Pelkie are members Jim Moore, Darrell Mead and Don Berg.

Shown working for Kiwanis in a service project for the needy of the area are Key Club members Jim Keene and Jay Carlson.

Shown conversing with Mrs. Peck are present and past presidents, Linda Beckman and Jane Peters.

Vox Puellarum

Vox Puellarum, under the sponsorship of the Soroptimist Women, emphasizes service to the community as well as to the school.

It is one of the most active clubs at North Central. Serving lunch every Saturday at Senior Citizen's Center, wrapping Christmas presents at Booth Memorial and sewing diapers for the Cerebral Palsy Center were just a few of the many activities carried on by Vox during the year.

To become a member of Vox, a girl must have a 2.8 grade point average, be a sophomore, junior, or senior and pass a test on community affairs, Soroptimist Club of Spokane, and school life.

This year the club was under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeth Peck, faculty adviser.

Keeping the showcase up are Pam Checki, Linda Beckman and Billie Wood. Sue Dalziel and Karen Compton watch.

"Look, you guys, I think it's a cute display," says Pam, while Linda and Billie find it amusing.

International Club

International Club is composed of students studying German, French and Spanish. The club hosted various speakers during the year. Owen Mir, a club member who lived in Afghanistan, spoke about his experiences. Mrs. Neslin showed her slides of Germany. Jim Keene served as president for the fall semester. President for the spring semester was Pat Albright. Advisers for the club were Mrs. Orosia McHugo, Mrs. Carol Newett and Helen Cain.

Mrs. H. Neslin shows interested students articles about Berlin.

Latin Club

"Senatus Populusque Romanus" was organized to increase friendly relationships among Latin students. It has a 35-membership maximum. A C-plus average and enrollment in Latin or past enrollment are requirements for admission.

An authentic Roman banquet was held near the Ides of March in commemoration of Julius Caesar's death. Typical Roman food was served and initiates were put through their paces as "slaves." Mrs. Laura Lee Briscoe supervised the year's activities.

Acting a scene of Julius Caesar are Maryl Sandberg and Michael Kilgore.

Quill and Scroll

Sponsoring a literary contest featuring prose and poetry divisions is one of the chief projects of the Edward R. Murrow chapter of Quill and Scroll, along with many other journalistic activities.

Outstanding journalism students on the Tamarack and News staffs who rank scholastically in the upper third of their class are eligible for membership in Quill and Scroll. The Edward R. Murrow chapter was organized at North Central in 1939 for the purpose of encouraging and rewarding individual achievement in journalism and the school publications.

The adviser of the club for the past year was Mrs. Marilyn Klawunder.

Quill and Scroll members are seen discussing plans for the journalism contest with Mrs. Klawunder.

New members Jim Davis, Bill McKanna, Linda Beckman and Shirley Potter work busily on the Tamarack.

First Row: Judy Atwood, Ellen Walter, Gayle Ross, Helen Blough, Faye Buck, Sandy Vaughn, Leslie Latimer, Susan Owens, Carol Fairbrother, Linda Cox, Candy Lindberg, Mary Thompson. DECA

In distributive education the opportunity is given to combine school and work. Students enrolled in this course study field distribution; they attend school until 12:30 p.m., when they leave for their respective jobs. Mrs. Louise Wickward was in charge of this activity and managed the club's functions through the year.

Journalism

Beginning journalism teaches the students basic elements of writing an effective news story. During second semester they began to write stories for The News.

Mailing staff met every publication day and wrapped The News for distribution to various schools throughout the United States in a newspaper exchange program. Mrs. Marilyn Klawunder supervised this class.

Traffic Squad

Regulating traffic in the school halls is the main purpose of the traffic squad. This group of juniors and seniors plans the flow of traffic from floor to floor and is under the direction of John Malterner.

Library Club

Amores Librorum, meaning lover of books, provides an opportunity to those interested in books and reading to exchange ideas.

Students in the club report certain periods of the day to work in the library. They perform such activities as work at the check-out desk, magazine room, files and book repair. Mrs. Lillian Barnes, head librarian, directs all activities.

Radio Club

Radio Club was organized to promote interest in amateur radio. Instruction is given to help students acquire their novice and general amateur radio license. The club has an amateur radio station that enables members to communicate with other radio amateurs throughout the United States and Canada. Supervisor is Leonard Graham.

Safe Driving

Students who participate in safety skills in the city-wide driving competition enable their school to achieve the goal of obtaining the safe-driving banner.

One member from each of the city schools acts as a representative for his school. North Central's representative this year was Lynn Boyet.

City-wide safe driving representative Lynn Boyet is shown with the city trophy that North Central students won last year.

Rifle Club

Newly organized at North Central, the Rifle Club set up its charter, recruited members and started to learn the art of marksmanship. Under the direction of Herbert Russell, industrial arts instructor, the club members met and practiced regularly.

Rehearsing for one of their productions are Keith Foisy, Kathy Malone, Gloria Rohner and Pat Pfeifer.

Thespians

North Central Thespians, one of thousands of similar groups in the nation, was formed to promote interest and skill in dramatics. Since its organization in 1946, members have participated in school plays and other fields of dramatics.

Eligibility to membership is based on a 15-point requirement system. Points are earned by participating in all phases of a play. The preparation of scenery and writing of programs are two of the activities necessary for a successful play. Points are also received for extra-curricular activities.

This year the club was directed by Nona Halverson.

Honor Students

Honor students this year added juniors to their numbers, and increased the membership of seniors to include second-semester applicants. The honor student program is open to students who meet high standards in attendance and achievement. They were presented with a red honors pass that permitted them to choose their own study areas, after erasing themselves from the study hall roll. On presentation of the pass, students can excuse themselves from class with the teacher's permission and participate in class sessions in other areas, also with the teacher's permission. Public library facilities are accessible to honor students if they check out of school with the office. Adviser for the group was Guy Griswold. Jim Moore was the group's chairman and presided at the meetings.

How do you get six elephants in a Volkswagon? Of course, three in front and three in back! These honor students are: clockwise from back: Keith Wunch, Don Berg, Ron Miller, Marie Fyfe, Gene Keene, Darrell Mead, Faye Oakes, Linda Beckman, Cathy Dunn.

FNA

Future Nurses of America was organized for girls interested in nursing as a career. The 35 members are sophomores, juniors and seniors who have a C-plus grade average.

Sponsored by the alumni of St. Luke's Hospital, members of the club visit there each week. Here they work in the central supply room, where they help prepare surgical materials for sterilization. Mrs. Vivian Hager was club adviser.

Helping a young patient in pediatrics are Cheryl Samms, Judy Allberry and Jeannie Sabiston.

Art Club

Providing art work for the display cases outside the public office and helping with various school functions requiring art work has kept the Art Club busy this year. The club participated in the ASB carnival with a beatnik coffeehouse where one could come and contemplate his life and times. Among other activities, the members took a trip to Cheney Cowles Museum to study the art exhibits being shown there. An art sale associated with the PTA was also planned for this year.

President of the Art Club for the fall semester was Don Puddy and and the spring semester president was Sandy Cable. Mrs. Barbara Eddy supervised the clubs activities.

Seen painting a large sign in the most practical manner are Sue McCoury and Steve Reichelt.

Cercle de Menage

Girls interested in home economics may join Cercle de Menage. This club is advised by Elizabeth Killingsworth, Homemaking Department head. Sharon Yurik served as president for the fall semester. President of the group for the spring semester was Gayle Jasberg.

The purpose of Cercle de Menage is to promote interest in the various opportunities and potential careers for women in the field of home-making.

Spring officers Marilyn Pasicznyk, Marilyn Rail, Gayle Northcutt and Gayle Jasberg are congratulated by out-going president Sharon Yurik.

Karen Sacco installs Marilyn Pasicznyk as treasurer. Looking on are Shirley Potter, Sandy Kosteletzky, Sharon Yurik, Gayle Northcutt and Marilyn Rail.

Biology Club

To promote and further knowledge in various scientific fields among students by bringing them closer to nature through learning more about plants and animals is the purpose of Biology Club.

For admission to the 35-member club, students must have a C-plus grade average and complete one semester of biology.

Monthly field trips to places of interest came to and end with a trip to the Washington State University Science Fair open house. Mrs. Esther Lancaster is the club's adviser.

Attention seems to be elsewhere at one of the morning meetings held during the year.

Talent Club

Composed of talented students in music and other specialty arts, Tau Chi was created to promote interest and further the development of the talents of North Central students. Providing members with the opportunity to develop their talent through performing experience is the main activity of the club.

Tau Chi has served North Central for over 10 years. Membership in Tau Chi is chosen through an open house first semester and invitational tryouts second semester. Daniel Davis was adviser of the club.

Commercial Club

Members of this club carry on projects and activities that will increase interest in business education and give insight into careers in the business world.

Working at the switchboard in the student office after school was one of the projects undertaken by members of the club this past year.

Membership is limited to 50. A major or minor in commercial subjects and a "C" average are the requirements for membership. Mrs. Mary York was club sponsor.

Shown operating the mimeograph machine are Roberta Thorpe and Gloria Rohner.

Fall Play Presented

"The Night of January 16" was a play based on the trial of a young girl who had been accused of murdering a wealthy executive. The scene was a courtroom of the Superior Court of the State of New York. Kathy Malone played the part of Karen Andre, the girl accused of murder. Her fate was decided by a jury chosen from the audience. The district attorney, played by Ron McCullough, and the defense attorney, played by Barry Lawson, presented their cases and the jury then decided Miss Andre's fate.

The play was directed by Mrs. Margaret Nistad and her student director, Jim Mickey.

In a dress rehearsal Ron McCullough, Kathy Malone, and Barry Lawson, male and female leads, work on their lines.

Seniors Present Con

"Telephone hour" scene from the Broadway musical, "Bye Bye Birdie," was presented as a part of the Senior Con this year. This scene depicted the importance of teen-age gossip on the telephone. The production was devoted to different eras and the fads of these eras.

The show was produced and directed through the combined talents of Nona Halverson, dramatics teacher, Michael Caldwell, choral director, and Ralph Montroy, stage crew adviser.

Jan Stradley and Judy Marshall perform a modern dance for the Senior Con.

"The Beat" Kathy Malone listens intently as Bill Cady reads aloud Beatnik poetry. Rick DeWitt is accompanist.

Tepee Lighters, Folk Group

Performances at various school and public functions have kept the Tepee Lighters and the newly formed Folk Group busy this year. The Tepee Lighters is a specially selected mixed ensemble which sings popular tunes. This group was formed partly for those students who, because of schedule conflicts, could not participate in music groups during the normal school day. Interested students may stay and attend an extra hour of class after school. The Folk Group also meets after school and specializes in folk songs and ballads.

Choir and Girls' Glee Club

Under the direction of Michael Caldwell, new choral director at North Central, the Choir and Girls' Glee Club presented a variety of choral concerts this year. Highlighting the Christmas concert was a special production, "The Miracle of the Toymaker." This play was arranged by Mr. Caldwell and his wife, Richie. The story tells of a little German toymaker, who on Christmas Eve, found that he could not sell his toys. Five dancers were chosen from the student body to play the part of dolls in the production.

"Where did that note come from?" asks Mr. Caldwell of Ron Stumph, Mickey Forrey, Kim DeLong and Pat Cotter.

Concert Choir Performs

Pictured at left are Barbara Hosea and Greg Tiemann, North Central's representatives to the Northwest Music Educators' Conference held at Portland, Ore., this spring. Not pictured is Joe Akins, who is also representing us. Highly advanced students of instrumental and vocal music were chosen from the five participating states to perform in a band, orchestra or choir at the conference. The representatives were chosen on the basis of competitive try-outs.

Poised and ready are North Central's representatives to the All Northwest Music Conference, Greg Tiemann and Barb Hosea.

Stage Crew

Operating the lights and setting the stage for convocations and productions is the job of the stage crew. Under the direction of Ralph Montroy, members of the class learned what goes on backstage during a program. Stage Crew met as a class third period to acquaint the boys with the job of running a show.

Honor Band Meets After School

Special band and music theory class was formed this year. Interested students could stay for an extra hour of class after school, learn how to build chords and learn about music from a technical standpoint. It also made possible the playing of more band music by those students who wished to participate. A. G. Tieman is the director of the group.

Music Groups Stress Fundamentals

Basic training and fundamentals are stressed in the cadet band, where students learn good musical habits and playing techniques. The concert band draws any needed players from this band.

Two of the several vocal ensembles which meet outside of school are pictured below. Students who are especially interested in music and those who do not have room in their schedules for music classes often form groups and practice on their own time. These two groups are directed by Michael Caldwell, choral director.

Marching Band

After several weeks of practice marching on the surrounding streets, the marching band participated in the annual Wenatchee Apple Blossom Festival Parade and the Spokane Lilac Parade. This band consists of all the members of the concert band and a few members of the cadet band. The band played "Them Bässes" on the march.

Mass confusion is the order of the day as the band prepares for marching practice.

Strength and virility are portrayed in every line of the Tamarack tree. This strength comes from within and is manifest in endurance and the desire to conquer over natural enemies and unfavorable environments. This becomes the inspirational guideline for all those who would excel in SPORTS . . . the strength of spirit that makes any individual exert his all to go the extra mile.

Coaching Staff Directs Athletic Program Throughout Football Season

Throughout the summer, the coaches watched the boys work out and get ready for the coming season. Training is very important to football players because it gives them a chance to discipline their bodies and minds to a rigid schedule that they must follow.

The difference between a winning and a losing season hinged on the fourth game, when NC lost to Rogers 7-6. If NC had won this game, NC would have had a 2-1 record in the first half of the league. After this key loss the team suffered four straight league defeats.

Loss of key personnel during the season because of injuries was a factor which led to NC's defeat at the hand of Rogers and contributed to the remaining defeats of the season.

Strong Virtues Shown by Squad

Determination, enthusiasm and courage were the virtues shown by this year's squad. It has been said that if a North Central team is beaten more than twice in succession, they literally fall apart at the seams; however, this year was quite the contrary, for the Indians never gave up once. They fought each game like true Warriors.

Last season Ed Kretz, head coach, started an honor program to build spirit and drive in the team. Any team member making an exceptional tackle or rewarding play received what they call an Apache. This is an insignia which the honored player is entitled to wear on his helmet. Those outstanding Warriors that received an Apache were Bill Diedrick, senior; Bill Nichols, senior, and Jack Coffey, senior.

Indians Defeat Shadle In Season Opener

In the first game of the season North Central met a new, organized Shadle Park squad, which showed good possibilities for the coming season, and defeated them in a 7-to-6 thriller.

The Indians were defeated the following week by Lewis and Clark in a 45-14 upset, but came back the following week to scalp Gonzaga 3 to 0. This victory was made possible by the sharp kicking toe of Bill Nichols.

The next game was full of disappointment for the Indians as they were beaten by Rogers by a narrow 7-to-6 score. The following week brought the spirit up with a 15-0 victory over Kennewick. The Indians were not able to capture another victory in the remainder of the season.

Awards Given at Con

The football players who deserve the special attention are those who are selected to receive the various awards given. This year's Blocking Award went to Jon Chastain; Tackling Award went to Jack Coffey; Lineman of the Year went to Jon Chastain; Captain of the Year went to Bill Diedrick, and the Inspirational Award went to Lindsay Hare.

Three men from this year's squad were selected for the highest honor a football player in high school can receive, and that is being selected on the All-City Team. Those who received this honor were Jon Chastain, first team all-city; Sandy Coopridier and Jack Reynolds, both chosen second team all-city.

B Squad Stepping Stone to Varsity

The B squad is the last stepping stone to varsity for the young footballers at North Central. In this squad the boys learn more about fundamentals and team support which help build their character and potential as football players. The varsity coaches watch this squad very closely for new, aggressive and tough footballers.

The NC B squad came up in last place in the final standings for the year. NC's lone victory was a 12-0 blanking of West Valley. The Braves' other losses were to Rogers (33-0), Ferris (12-7), Central Valley (12-6), Shadle Park (13-0) and Lewis and Clark (13-0).

B squad works hard throughout season preparing for their varsity positions, which they will attain in the following years.

Freshman squad drills on fundamentals during after-school practice.

Freshmen Learn Fundamentals

In Frosh football the little Indians are taught the fundamentals of the game and how to be true sportsmen. These footballers are the athletes who in the next few years will be fighting for North Central's victories, after the present varsity is gone. The squad did not play many games, only four, but spent their time learning how to block, tackle and carry the ball.

Among the Frosh teams played by the Freshmen squad were Lewis and Clark in which the Indians lost 25-0. Their next two games with Rogers and Gonzaga proved to be fatal ones for the Indians; they lost both of them 25-6 and 25-0 respectively. But the little Indians ended the season with a 26-13 scalping over Ferris.

Hard Work Makes Team

Miles of hard work helped to develop the North Central cross-country team this year. Coach Gene Lister, assisted by Al Meyer, pushed his team to place in the city league competition.

Leading the cross-country team in competition this year were Ben Goins, Gary Florin, Ron Bogenreif, Ullrich Marquardt and Jim Moore. Other members of the team were Mike Greenwood, Randy Naylor, Russ Oslund, Bob Rockser, Darrell Mead, Terry Mattix, Dan Auckett, Dana Watson, Ralph Radner, Roger Smith, Ralph Petty, Ken Zarko, Tom Coleman, Dave Wayland and Greg Woodruff.

Coach Gene Lister stated that Ben Goins took part in an invitational indoor track meet in Seattle against Washington's best high school runners. Ben finished third in this event.

Greg Woodruff sprints by his Shadle opponent in the All-City meet held at Shadle Park.

Tennis Squad Takes All-City

The North Central boys' tennis team went through City League play unbeaten in eight matches and also went on to win the All-City net tournament last fall. This spring the boys are working extra hard to do the same thing during spring play.

The golf squad also did very well in fall play and hopes to do as well this spring. During a con this spring Raymond Simonson stated that Spokane had a very unique setup in that the Park Commission does so much to promote golf by allowing free use of city courses three times a week.

Coach Long Uses

North Central basketball team, under the direction of coach Sonny Long, had a 4-15 record this year. The team's record doesn't show the caliber of ball they played. The team, led by Senior Lettermen Don Matson, Larry Heinz, Sandy Coopriders and Gail Keeling, had numerous occasions where the game could have gone either way. Other team members who saw plenty of action were Bruce Wald, Bill Diedrick, Ron Jewell, Bob Johnson, Dennis DeBill, Gary Florin, Clint Kruiswyk, Jack Rizzuto, Tom Wold, Chuck Wilkerson and Ken Grimm.

The team, traveling to Sandpoint and Kellogg, dropped the first two games of their campaign by very close scores. The Indians opened North Central won their first game at the Coliseum by beating West Valley 54-41. Larry Heinz led all scorers with 21 points.

Don Matson led North Central in scoring this year with 190 points in 13 league games. Larry Heinz was right behind him with 189 points. They were third and fourth in the city scoring race. This pair of North Centralites made second team All-City in the Spokesman-Review.

'Bees' Prepare for Varsity

The North Central "Bees" under the direction of Coach Richard Hannan were considered one of the teams to beat during the past year. Coach Hannan's starting five varied during the year, with several boys alternating at various positions. The team consisted of David Wright, Mike Sleeth, Doug Goddard, Marv

Richardson, Tom Crouch, Allan Hanson, Chris Ramsey, Nyal Derr, Jerry Harwood, Dennis Stuart, Tom Crossman, Rick Keeling, Dick Engstrom, Sam Lerch, Les Smith and Bill Miller. Many of these boys will make up next year's varsity team.

The North Central freshmen, coached by Al Meyer, were in contention for the title all year. Mr. Meyer, assisted by cadets during the year, taught the young ballplayers fundamentals and basic moves. The team consisted of Tom Jones, Steve Bishop, Mike Jordan, Steve Allberry, Don Ullrich, Mike Schiffner, Larry Jelsing, Eric Davis, Bernie Gannon, Dale Walker, Ken Grothe, Lonnie Morgan, Isaac Carter, Bill Warehouse, Gary Fiebez and John Carver.

Mr. Meyer stated that these boys will make up the varsity in a couple of years and that they will, with a little more work and practice, be one of the toughest teams that North Central has ever produced.

Wrestling, a relatively new sport to the high school scene, has jumped sky-high in popularity. Every match was well attended by North Central supporters which probably contributed to an excellent record that NC attained. We were second in the city league standings, one game behind Shadle Park and at state we were second also. Some outstanding wrestlers were Jack Coffey, State Champion, at 145; Dave Young at 175, and Dean Nakagawa at 106 placed second at state. Others who went to state were Tom Vaughn at 115, Greg Caballero at 127 and Joe Parish at 133.

Champs Defend Title

The North Central varsity baseball team, under the watchful eye of A. Manfred, are the defending champions of the city league. The team has many members returning from that championship club. Among the returning lettermen are Bill Nichols, Don Matson, Tom Ashley, Larry Heinz, Bill Diedrick, Dale Holton and Tom Brass. Other members of the team are Dennis Moss, Don Smith, Chuck Wilkerson, Clint Kruiswyk, Tom Wold, Bob Johnson, Jack Rizzuto, Rick Henson, Dennis DeBill, John Anderson, Dave Elliott and Sid Cossette.

Coach Manfred stated that the team would be in the title picture if the pitching came through. Defensively we are the toughest team in the city. The league will add two new members this year. They are Joel E. Ferris and Mead.

Track Team Works Hard for Championship

The North Central track squad has been fortunate to have outstanding track men this year, notably, Ben Goins, senior, who runs in the 880; Sandy Coopridier, senior, a powerful runner and broad jumper; Gail Keeling, senior, who runs the hurdles, and Terry Schafer, also a senior, who holds the current city pole vault record. With this lineup of fine athletes, NC looks hopefully toward a winning season.

Although the above-mentioned boys are the most outstanding, Coach Eugene Lister emphasized the importance of the team as a unit, also. In the spring introductory convocation, Mr. Lister stated that with hard work we would do very well this season.

North Central's cheerleaders dedicated much of their own time to develop school spirit in the students. They often spent well beyond the appropriate amount of time in perfecting their routines. They cheered in all types of weather, indoors and outdoors, and for many different sports. Meeting through the summer and on weekends, they prepared for their coming activities. And now that the year has ended, they look back on the joys and disappointments they had through team wins and losses.

In keeping with this phrase from a cheer, the Red Feathers marching unit has taken part in many half-time stunts. During the football season the Red Feathers worked every day fourth period to perfect stunts for the stadium games. They attended every varsity football and basketball game with additional attendance at varsity wrestling matches, track and baseball games. This year they sponsored a Thanksgiving family by donating money and food to be given to a needy family. As their big project in the spring, the Red Feathers, Color Girls and Marching Band prepared to march in the annual Torchlight Parade, and the Appleblossom Festival in Wenatchee. Every day fourth period they could be seen as they marched down the streets near North Central.

'Oh, Red and Black'

Color Girls displayed the school's colors in their red sweaters and black skirts. Composed of freshmen and sophomores, they added spirit and enthusiasm to the cheering sections. They are required to attend all varsity football and basketball games, wrestling matches and track meets. They also attended many non-required sporting events in addition to supporting their respective year's teams.

'Dear Red and Black'

Operating under a demerit system similar to Red Feathers', the caliber of girl and student was kept at a high level. Frosh and B-squad cheerleaders are chosen from their number. These girls also try out in the spring for Red Feathers, Majorettes, or other honor units. Kay Selde advised the freshmen, and Eleanor Bennett advised the sophomores.

"Now this is how ou do it" says Mrs. Lill. Joining her as teachers in the Girls' PE Department are Kay Selde (top) and Elaine Bennett (bottom).

Chosen as majorettes to lead during parades and perform in haltime activities are: Donna Revard, Colleen Duffy and Peggy Hansen.

Units Directed By Faculty

Mrs. Lucile Lill, department head, along with Misses Kay Selde and Eleanor Bennett taught a variety of sports to their PE classes, as well as serving as advisers for Red Feathers and Color Girls.

Leading the marching units during parades and half-time activities were the majorettes and color guard.

These girls served as locker monitors in the shower room, staying long hours to do a good job. They are, in the first row: Carol Carver, Sue Durgan, Bobbie King, Mary Karr. Second Row: Joan McDaniels, Lucille Daniels, Pat Mandy and Judy Groves.

Representatives of the various marching units and the band are formed into our Color Guard as shown here. They are: Billie Anderson, Corrine Kersul, Paul Custer, Terry Frame and Pat Chantry.

Coordination and Grace Mark Skating, Dancing

Special qualities of coordination, physical strength, and grace are demanded for participation in ice skating and modern dance. These demanding activities more than meet the requirements for body-building. Girls were given special sessions sixth period at the Coliseum and Ice Plaza to practice perfecting their form.

First Row: Pam Checki, Becki Stone, Colleen Day. Second Row: Sandy Douglas, Loretta Luger, Linda Stuart, Debbie Steidl, Lea Wright, Marya Graff.

Shown practicing their putting on the green are Becky Stone, Colleen Day and Debbie Steidl.

Skill Is Executed In Golf and Gymnastics

The excellent facilities of the new gym's gymnastic room were used through the year by girls interested in this area. The trampoline, balance beam and vaulting box served to train girls as better gymnasts.

Coordination and physical strength were combined also by members of the golf team. They competed through the year with teams of other schools. In spring practice sessions at Downriver Golf Course, the girls concentrated on style and accuracy.

Varsity Tennis and Modern Dance

Tennis demands vigorous participation and alertness just as grace is essential in modern dance. Both skills require practice and conditioning, concentration and physical strength.

The tennis team competed with league and nonleague teams through both the fall and spring seasons. Our new courts were given real workouts through the summer months as dedicated girls met daily to perfect serves and volleying form.

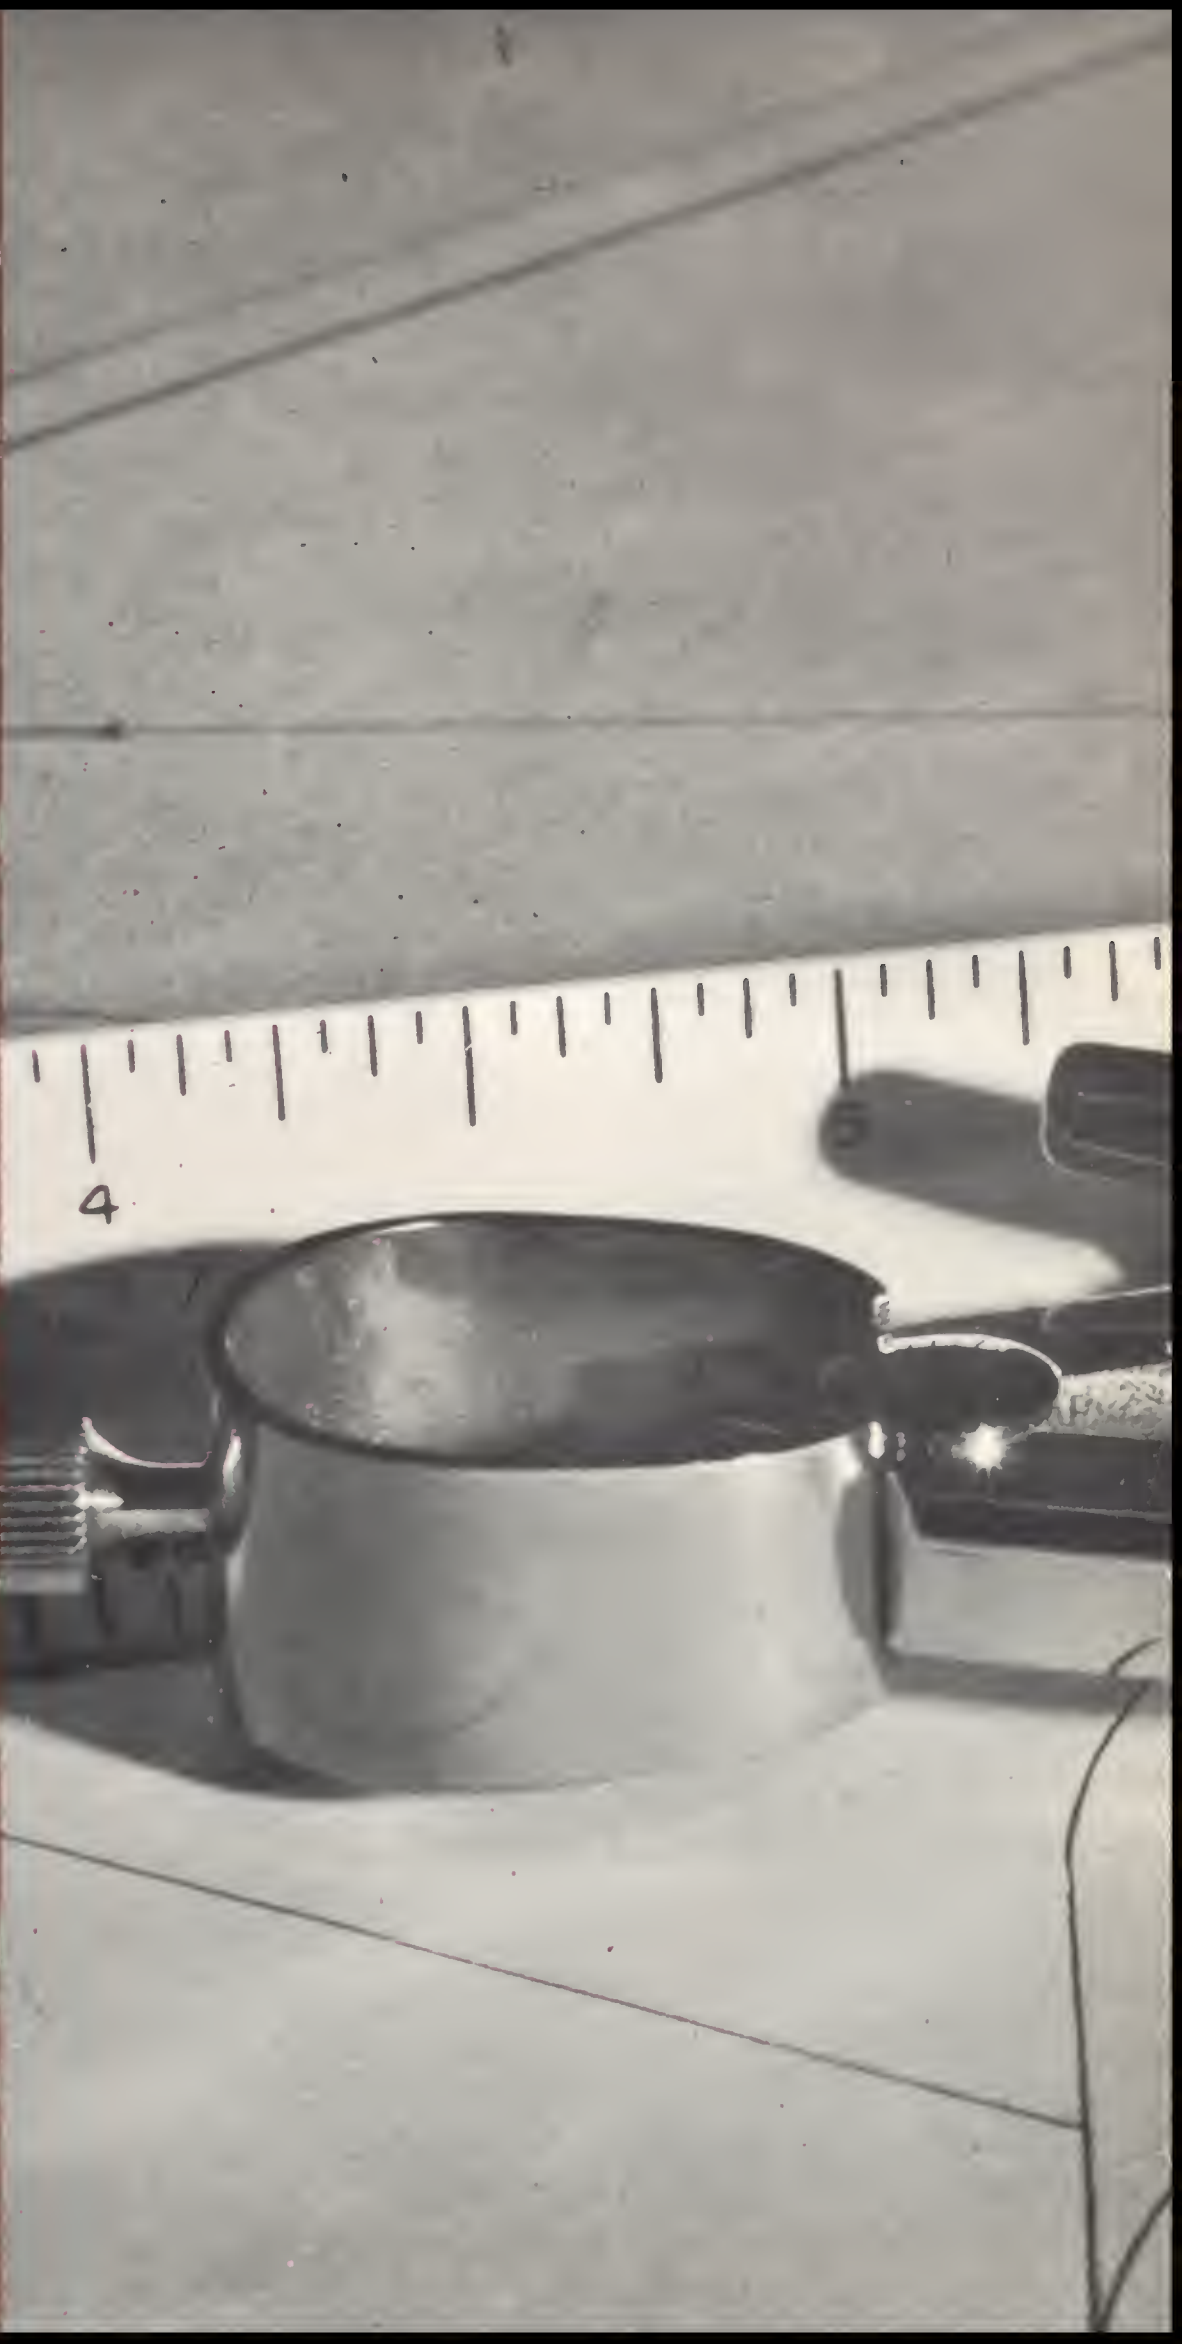

Modern dance team, coached by Kay Selde, combined obvious physical talent with creativity in a new form of expression.

Practicing warm-ups as a doubles team are Karen Baker and Renee Paquin.

Spirit alone was not the only value of the tree. Its various uses seemed to preserve the dignity of the tree and endear it to the hearts of the tribesmen. In commercial value, its greatest potential lay in its adaptability . . . as is ADVERTISING one of America's greatest potential media.

From Shadow to Future

Sunlight streams through open windows,
Anticipation runs high.
The dawn of our future awakes us
While graduation draws nigh.

The Shadows — the memories of high school —
Are now past and forever gone.
Our hearts carry the Shadows
As our minds reach out for the dawn.

Two Spokane high schools, North Central and Lewis and Clark, have stood for more than a half century, each making itself an essential part of the community.

There have been contests and rivalries, victories and defeats — yet the spirit of sportsmanship and goodwill endures.

The dreams and aspirations of every graduate provides a lasting bond between the two schools.

After a hectic year of deadlines, frustrations, confusion and fun, the Tamarack staff is more than willing to say "30" and put the '65 Tammy to bed. Here are the fruits of our labor, the results of innumerable hours of work and planning. We wish to thank the faculty and the students who were cooperative when we asked for special privileges or help. We hope you will receive our offering in the spirit it was given . . . Good luck to all who read this . . . Farewell from the staff of '65—the best year yet!
